

Lola's Children's Song

trad. as sung by Lola Wright
arr. Christina Mimmocchi 2009

Section 1 ♩=80

S.  Here come three Dukes just out of Spain to call u - pon your daugh-ter Jane. Your daugh-ter Jane, etc

A.  Here come three Dukes just out of Spain to call u - pon your daugh-ter Jane. Your daugh-ter Jane, etc

B.  Here come three Dukes just out of Spain to call u - pon your daugh-ter Jane. Your daugh-ter Jane, etc

Section 2 ♩=120

S.  Oh, Lo-la will you come, oh, Lo-la will you come, oh, Lo-la will you come with me? No!
then, then,

A.  Oh, Lo-la will you come, oh, Lo-la will you come, oh, Lo-la will you come with me?
then, then,

B.  Oh, Lo-la will you come, oh, Lo-la will you come, oh, Lo-la will you come with me?
then, then,

8 ♩=100

S.  If I give you a gold-en ball to bounce from the kitch-en right in - to the hall, then

A.  If I give you a gold-en ball to bounce from the kitch-en right in - to the hall, then

B.  If I give you a gold-en ball to bounce from the kitch-en right in - to the hall, then

Section 1

Here come three Dukes just out of Spain
To call upon your daughter Jane.

Your daughter Jane is far too young
To understand the flatt'ring tongue.

Go back go back you saucy jack
And clean your spurs for they are black.

My spurs are clean and shine like gold
And in this world shall not be sold.

Come through my kitchen, come through my hall
And pick the fairest one of all.

The fairest one that I can see
Is little Lola, come to me.

Section 2

CHORUS 1

Oh, Lola will you come
Oh, Lola will you come
Oh, Lola will you come with me? No!

If I give you a golden ball
To bounce from the kitchen right into the hall –
Then Lola will you come,
Then Lola will you come,
Then Lola will you come with me? No!

If I give you a golden comb
To comb your locks as they grow long –
Then Lola will you come,
Then Lola will you come,
Then Lola will you come with me? No!

If I give you the keys of heaven
To count the angels eleven by eleven –
Then Lola will you come,
Then Lola will you come,
Then Lola will you come with me? No!

If I give you a golden chest
And all the money that I possess –
Then Lola will you come,
Then Lola will you come,
Then Lola will you come with me? Ooh - maybe!